PREFACE

Scope. This publication brings up to date the bibliography of union lists of serials, compiled by Daniel C. Haskell and Karl Brown of the New York Public Library, which appeared in the second edition of the Union List of Serials in 1943.

It was decided to follow the lead of Haskell and Brown in aiming at geographical and chronological comprehensiveness; to collect not only union lists of serials properly so called, but also other bibliographies of serials which indicate the location of the materials they describe; and to include citations of journal articles and parts of books as well as separately published items.

For the purpose of this bibliography, serials are defined in the broadest sense to include newspapers, periodicals, annuals, services, government publications, proceedings of conferences and congresses, the publications of learned societies, and similar continuations. The only category included by Haskell and Brown which has been omitted from the present bibliography is that of checklists devoted exclusively to American almanacs. It is believed that Milton Drake's monumental Almanacs of the United States (New York, Scarecrow Press, 1962. 2 v.), which describes over 14,300 different items, locates nearly 75,000 copies, and contains an extensive bibliography, leaves nothing which could usefully be added to the subject from secondary sources.

This bibliography lists publications that indicate the location of serials in more than one library (e.g., a public or a university library and its branches, as well as libraries with no administrative connection); the only such publications which were excluded are those, small in number, in which the location information clearly applies only to current issues rather than to permanent files.

Arrangement of entries is geographical, by region or country, in some cases subdivided by country, state, or city; and alphabetical within each section. Placement of an entry is determined by the location, according to present boundaries, of the majority of the libraries whose holdings are represented in the union list. For example, item 70, a union list of Communist Chinese serials, representing the holdings of 28 libraries—18 in the United States, 3 each in Canada, England, and Tokyo, and 1 in Hong Kong—is entered in the United States section. If the location of the libraries could not be established, the entry was placed under the country of publication. A geographical index complements the arrangement scheme, and, in the example cited, references will be found there to item 70 under Canada, England, Tokyo, and Hong Kong.

Two other indexes are also provided: an index of names (authors, compilers, editors, and other persons or corporate bodies closely connected with the publications listed); and an index of the subjects referred to in the titles or contents notes of the union lists.

All editions or successive issues of a union list for which information could be found are described, in chronological order, in the entry for that list. Separate editions or issues are designated by bracketed numbers, indented from the entry number (e.g., item 2). In order to avoid repetition in these multiple entries, dashes have been used if the author, the title (in the case of title entries such as item 118), or the author and title are unchanged from the immediately preceding edition.

A short addenda section contains items received too late to be entered in their proper places. These items are fully indexed.

Annotations. Information in the annotations is, in general, confined to the following matters: the arrangement of entries; the number and location of contributing libraries; the number of serials included, if this figure is available; whether or not the extent of library holdings is shown; and the presence of any indexes. If any of these points is covered in the title, the information is not, as a rule, repeated in the annotation. In most cases, annotations are based on examination of the publications; where copies were not available in the collections of the Library of Congress, the National Library of Medicine, the National Agricultural Library, or the Columbus Memorial Library of the Pan American Union, information from secondary sources has been drawn upon wherever possible.

For entries in the Slavic and Baltic languages, and in Finnish, Hungarian, Chinese, and Japanese, translations of the titles are provided where necessary as the first element of the annotation.

Transliteration. For works in the cyrillic alphabet, the transliteration tables appearing on page 246 of the A.L.A. Cataloging Rules for Author and Title Entries (Chicago, American Library Association, 1949) have been used. The Wade-Giles system and the modified Hepburn system have been used for romanizing Chinese and Japanese respectively.

Call Numbers and Symbols. Library of Congress call numbers are given for all cataloged items in the general collections; the symbol "DLC" indicates material which was uncataloged when the compiler examined it. National Union Catalog symbols (see page xiii) are used to show the location of items in other libraries in the United States and Canada.

Acknowledgements. Grateful thanks are extended to all my colleagues in the Library of Congress, especially those members of the Slavic and Far Eastern languages sections of the Descriptive Cataloging Division, the Slavic and Central European Division, and the Orientalia Division, who freely gave their invaluable services on matters of translation, forms of entry, and proofreading; and to the staffs at the National Library of Medicine, the National Agricultural Library, and the Columbus Memorial Library of the Pan American Union, who made my searches there as easy as possible.

INTRODUCTION

Serials remain the most important means of rapidly disseminating to the learned community new knowledge in all fields of study, particularly in the natural sciences and technology. The great profusion of serial publications makes it impossible for even the richest libraries to obtain and keep more than a part of what their readers may require. Where economic or political conditions interfere with the procurement of foreign publications, library cooperation in the acquisition and circulation of scarce or costly serials is vital.

The published union list is the most convenient device by which libraries located in a certain area, or specializing in a particular subject, may inform users of the serials which each one can make available. Union lists facilitate interlibrary loans and the procurement of photocopies and can be used to support other forms of library cooperation, such as exchanges and transfers, cooperative acquisitions and storage, and the discarding of excess duplicates. Dealers in serials find union lists of assistance as a means of learning which libraries lack serial issues that can be supplied from the dealers' stocks. The more carefully prepared union lists are invaluable bibliographical aids, providing information on the founding and closing dates of serials, giving details of exact title, place of publication, frequency, issuing body, and volume numbering, and recording the many changes in these elements which serials all too frequently undergo. In addition, their usefulness as library directories should not be overlooked—the major domestic and foreign union lists contain the names, sometimes with street addresses, of hundreds of libraries of many types.

The earliest known union list of serials was compiled by Luciano dell'Acqua and published in Milan in 1859. (The centenary of this event was suitably marked by Luigi Balsamo's 31-page pamphlet, Contributo alla storia dei cataloghi di periodici esistenti nelle biblioteche italiane (1859-1959), published by Sansoni in Florence in 1960.) Dell'Acqua's list appeared in two subsequent editions, in 1861 and 1864. These were followed by the publication in 1866 at Oxford University of a Provisional Catalogue of Transactions of Societies, Periodicals, and Memoirs Available for the Use of Professors and Students, which was revised in 1871, 1876, and 1887. Other early foreign union lists were issued for the following places: 1879, Geneva; 1881, Belgium; 1884, Amsterdam; 1885, Italy; 1887, Pomerania; 1889, Budapest and Sydney. The earliest American union list, a Check List of Periodicals, was published by Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore in 1876. A second edition appeared in 1878, the same year in which two lists for the Boston-Cambridge area were first published. The first regional American list was issued in California in 1880, and the first one offering national coverage was Bolton's Catalogue of Scientific and Technical Periodicals, published by the Smithsonian Institution in 1885. The representation of Canadian library holdings, which has become a standard feature of the major American union lists, also began with Bolton.

The value and importance of union lists is amply confirmed by their proliferation during the past 105 years, especially in recent decades (at least 60 percent of the editions recorded in this bibliography were published since the end of the Second World War). Bibliographers of union lists have recorded this increase in the following way:

Josephson, 1899:	25
Josephson, 1906:	65
Haskell, 1927:	179
Brown, 1931:	68 (supplementing the 1927 bibliography)
Mummendey, 1939:	281
Haskell & Brown, 1943:	387

Although the present bibliography records 1,218 lists, the compiler is well aware that it has no more nearly achieved completeness than its predecessors. The increasing use of near-print methods for producing union lists and the informal distribution of such lists outside the channels of the book trade, the practice of issuing small editions of lists prepared for a relatively limited area, and the neglect of, or delay in, submitting copies of some of the slighter lists for legal deposit—all tend to decrease the chances that these publications will be recorded in any of the standard national or trade bibliographies. This is particularly true in the United States, where legal deposit is necessary only if copyright protection is desired; moreover, only a few of the special libraries, which are very active in the production of union lists, contribute to the National Union Catalog.

The collections of the Library of Congress provide the primary source for this bibliography. Of the entries described here, about 56 percent are represented by at least one edition in the Library's holdings. As work on the compilation progressed, however, it soon became apparent that an attempt to achieve comprehensive coverage would require heavy use of bibliographies, reviews, and other secondary sources. It was decided therefore to present here a chronological listing of earlier bibliographies of union lists, followed by an alphabetical listing of the principal international sources examined, and a review of the most important sources for separate regions and countries:

For the United States, much use was made of American Library Resources: A Bibliographical Guide, by Robert B. Downs (Chicago, American Library Association, 1951. 428 p.), and its Supplement, 1950-1961 (Chicago, American Library Association, 1962. 226 p.). In addition, many periodicals were scanned, among them American Documentation, College and Research Libraries, Library Journal, Serial Slants, Special Libraries, the Wilson Library Bulletin, and a wide variety of bulletins issued by university and other large libraries and by chapters of the Special Libraries Association. The listings in the Library Quarterly of graduate theses accepted at library schools in the United States were also examined.

Canadiana was the chief source for Canada; reference was also made to the bulletins of the Canadian Library Association and the Montreal Chapter of SLA.

For Central and South America, the collections of the Columbus Memorial Library of the Pan American Union were utilized, as well as the following bibliographical sources:

Fichero bibliográfico hispanoamericano. v. 1+ Oct. 1961+ New York, R. R. Bowker.

For Great Britain, in addition to the British National Bibliography, the following sources were of value:

Aslib directory: a guide to sources of information in Great Britain and Ireland. Edited by Miriam Alman. London, Aslib, 1957. 2 v.

"Appendix B: Union lists and catalogues of periodicals"; v. 1, p. 175-178.

Reviews and listings of new publications were scanned in Aslib Proceedings, the Journal of Documentation, and the Library Association Record.

French librarians and bibliographers can take pride in the nationally coordinated coverage of periodical holdings which they have achieved. In 1953, nearly every département began issuing a mimeographed list of the French and foreign serials available in local libraries. Revisions or supplements are produced every few years. The reports of foreign serial holdings are combined to form a national union list, the Inventaire des périodiques étrangers reçus en France, three editions of which have been published (1956, 1959, and 1962). All these projects are under the supervision of the Direction des Bibliothèques de France, an organ of the Ministère de l'Éducation Nationale.

Bibliographical sources for French union lists include the first volume of Les Sources du travail bibliographique, by L. N. Malclès (Genève, Droz, 1950); the Bibliographie de la France; the Bulletin d'informations of the Direction des Bibliothèques de France, and its successor, the Bulletin des bibliothèques de France. The last-named journal published a special issue on French union lists of serials in May 1962.

For Germany, in addition to Dr. Mummendey's Bibliographie der Gesamt-Zeitschriften-Verzeichnisse, cited above, and the second edition of the Handbuch der bibliographischen Nachschlagewerke, by Wilhelm Totok and Rolf Weitzel (Frankfurt am Main, V. Klostermann, 1959. 335 p.), the following continuing sources were employed: Deutsche Bibliographie: Halbjahres-Verzeichnis; Deutsche National-Bibliographie (particularly its Reihe B); Bibliographie der deutschen Bibliographien; Zeitschrift für Bibliothekswesen und Bibliographie; Zentralblatt für Bibliothekswesen; Dokumentation; and Nachrichten für Dokumentation.

Luigi Balsamo's Contributo alla storia dei cataloghi di periodici, cited above, is an excellent source of information about Italian union lists. Dr. Guerriera Guerrieri's article, "Pubblicazioni periodiche; cataloghi collettivi e spogli," published in Accademie e biblioteche d'Italia, v. 26, maggio/agosto 1958: 215-226, includes information on union lists in preparation in a number of Italian cities. Issues of the national bibliography—Bollettino delle pubblicazioni italiani and its successor, Bibliografia nazionale italiana—were also examined.

No special sources of information for the union lists of Austria, Belgium, the Netherlands, Portugal, Spain, and Switzerland were found. The following bibliographies were examined: Bibliographie de Belgique; Bibliografía hispánica; Bibliotheca hispana, sec. 1; Boletim de bibliografia portuguesa; El Libro español; Österreichische Bibliographie; and Das Schweizer Buch (Reihe A and Reihe B).

It is of interest to note that in the Netherlands, where few union lists have been published since the establishment in 1941 of the Central Catalog of Periodicals at the Royal Library in The Hague, a plea was recently made for the publication of up-to-date union lists of periodicals in order to permit speedier loan service ("Het Nut van tijdschriftenlijsten," by Dr. A. Gorter, in Bibliotheekleven, v. 47, Sept. 1962: 436-440). In this connection we may also mention that "The advantages and disadvantages of union catalogues in book form, particularly union catalogues of periodicals," is among the subjects suggested for future study by IFLA (Libraries in the World: A Long-Term Programme for the International Federation of Library Associations. The Hague, Nijhoff, 1963. p. 29).

For the Scandinavian countries, the following national bibliographies were examined: Dansk bogfortegnelse, Årskatalog; Norsk bokfortegnelse, Årskatalog, Suomen kirjallisuus; and Svensk bokkatalog. Issues of Tidskrift för dokumentation; the biennial "Nordisk bibliografi och bibliotekslitteratur," appearing in Nordisk tidskrift för bok- och biblioteksväsen; "Nordisk fortegnelse over løpende periodika," in Bok og bibliotek, v. 26, Sept. 1959: 246-253; and Carl Björkbo's "Swedish Catalogues and Bibliographies of Periodicals," in Journal of Documentation, v. 15, Mar. 1959: 17-20, were all of great assistance.

"Union Catalogues in Slavonic Countries," by Janina Czerniatowicz, published in Libri, v. 9, no. 4, 1959: 329-346, gives a good general view and many valuable references. The following Eastern European national bibliographies were examined: Bulgarski knigopis, České knihy (formerly Česka kniha), Slovenské knihy, Magyar nemzeti bibliografia, Przewodnik bibliograficzny, Knizhnaia letopis' and its Dopolnitel'nyi vypusk, Latvijs PSR preses hronika, and Bibliografija Jugoslavije.

A number of other sources deserve special attention. For Czechoslovakia, these are:

Katalogy periodik v československých knihovnách. In Prague. Knihovna vysokých škol technických. Soupis cizozemských periodik technických a příbuzných v knihovnách Československé republiky. v. 3. V Praze, 1958. p. 542-545.

Malec, Karel. Soupis bibliografií novin a časopisů vydávaných na území Československé republiky. Praha, Orbis, 1959. 216 p.

Soupis českých bibliografií. roč. 1+ 1956+ V Praze, Národní knihovna.

Vejsová, Anna. Ústřední katalogy. Technická knihovna, v. 10, kvet. 1960: 69-81.

For Hungary, Mária Németh's A Központi folyóirat címjegyzék kérdései. On the Problems of Union Lists of Periodicals (Budapest, Akadémiai Nyomda, 1959. 44 p.) constitutes an unusually valuable source.

Polish union lists are treated in "Centralne katalogi," by Janina Czerniatowicz and Janina Gruszecka, published in the Biuletyn Instytutu Bibliograficznego, v. 5, no. 3, 1957: 77-221. Additional references were found in the second edition of Wiktor Hahn's Bibliografia bibliografií polskich (Wrocław, Zakład im. Ossolińskich, 1956. xxii, 645 p.).

L. B. Khavkina's Svodnye katalogi (istoriia—teoriia—praktika). S illiustratsiiami i annotirovannoi bibliografiiei (Moskva, 1943. 181 p.) contains an inventory of union catalogs in the Soviet Union, both published and in card form. The Bibliografiia sovetskoi bibliografii was also found a most helpful source. It should be mentioned that the Russian sources used, with few exceptions, give only Russian titles for works published in Ukrainian, Belorussian, and other languages. It was seldom possible to determine the original titles, and they are therefore cited in Russian as found.

Rumanian union lists presented some difficulties. What appeared to be the same publications were variously cited, and none of them could be identified in the issues of Buletinul bibliografic available here. Some assistance was found in the following sources:

Academia Republicii Populare Romine. Biblioteca. Ghid de documentare in ştiinţele agricole. [Bucureşti] 1960. 271 p.

----- Ghid de documentare in ştiinţele medicale. [Bucureşti] 1959. 131 p.

----- Ghid de documentare in ştiinţele naturii şi ştiinţele aplicate Ştiinţele fizico-matematice. Chimia. Ştiinţele geologice-geografice. Ştiinţele biologice. [Bucureşti] 1960. 437 p.

Moldoveanu, Valeriu. Sistemul cataloagelor colective din R.P.R. Calauza bibliotecarului, v. 12, noiem. 1959: 40-43.

For the remaining sections of this bibliography, two special sources should be mentioned: the Indian National Bibliography, and Australian Bibliography and Bibliographical Services, published in Canberra in 1960 by the Australian Advisory Council on Bibliographical Services.

Canadian Library Association. News and microfilm project; catalogue. Microfilms de journaux. no. 1-6, 1948-1957. [Ottawa] 1948-57. 6 v. facsim. Z6954.C2C18, nos. 1-6

Contents.—[no. 1] 1948. 28 p.—no. 2, 1949. [12] p.—no. 3, 1951. 24 p.—no. 4, 1954. 22 p.—no. 5, 1955. 20 p.—no. 6, 1957. 20 p.

Each issue describes newspaper files microfilmed since the appearance of the previous catalog. Bibliographic information includes the extent and location of newspaper files which were filmed. Arrangement of the entries is geographical, by province and then by town.

In addition, the issues for 1951, 1954, and 1957 contain a union list of microfilms of Canadian newspapers produced by the Canadian Library Association (the 1955 issue contains a partial list supplementing the one in the 1954 issue). The 1957 issue lists 112 Canadian newspaper files on microfilm and indicates the availability of these films in 101 libraries in Canada, the U.S., England, Australia, and the U.S.S.R.

All issues except the first were published first (sometimes in slightly different form) in the Bulletin of the Canadian Library Association. The 1949 catalog, which appeared in v. 5, May 1949: 201-212, contained, on p. 210-211, a "Union List of Canadian Newspapers on Microfilm" which was not reproduced when the catalog was separately published.

Canadian Library Association. Microfilm Committee. Canadian newspapers on microfilm; catalogue.

[2] Compiled under the supervision of Sheila A. Egoff. Ottawa, Canadian Library Association, 1959+ 1 v. (loose-leaf) Z6954.C2C19

In pt. 1, "The arrangement is as follows: Canadian newspapers are listed first, under Province, followed by a small group of foreign newspapers and a few periodicals. Under these groupings the titles are numbered in the order in which they were microfilmed . . . This arrangement will make for the ready insertion of new material." Location of the files which were filmed is indicated, and libraries holding positive microfilm copies are also shown. The list of symbols represents 68 Canadian and 61 foreign libraries (in the U.S., England, the Irish Republic, Australia, and the U.S.S.R.).

Pt. 2 lists other Canadian newspapers on microfilm, and indicates the producers from whom copies of the films may be purchased.

Bilten primovljenih stranih naučnih i stručnih knjiga i časopisa biblioteka u Beogradu.

- [1] v. 1. Beograd, Bibliografski institut Narodne Republike Srbije, 1948. Z952.B5, v. 1

Bulletin of accessions of foreign scientific and professional books and periodicals in Belgrade libraries.

The four issues of this volume contain classified listings of accessions; serials and monographs are interfiled. The contributing libraries number as follows: issue no. 1, 19; no. 2, 38; no. 3, 105; no. 4, 85. The title of the fourth issue is Bilten primovljenih stranih naučnih i stručnih knjiga i časopisa biblioteka u N.R. Srbiji. Continued by the following:

Bilten stranih naučnih i stručnih knjiga i časopisa primovljenih u bibliotekama FNRJ. v. 2. Beograd,

- [2] grad, Naučna knjiga, 1949. Z952.B5, v. 2
Bulletin of accessions ... in Yugoslav libraries.

The first and third issues are devoted to serials (the second and fourth, to books). Each contains a classified arrangement of entries; there are repetitions, because individual issues rather than files are treated as accessions. Tables of contents are also given. Symbol lists indicate that over 500 libraries are represented in each of these 2 issues.

This journal apparently was not published in 1950. The single issue for 1951 recorded in DLC is entitled Bilten stranih naučnih i stručnih knjiga primovljenih u bibliotekama FNRJ and, as the title suggests, includes no periodicals.
